Good Morning Kerry,

I'm unaware of a change in policy re: PPA but will talk to Lt. Ling to see. Those types of changes would come from our general counsel division. I will be attending the security meeting tomorrow and am happy to join the conversation about trespassing issues.

Thanks- we can discuss further at our 10am today... see you then

Committee Notes – Joint Meeting
Security Committee- Hollywood Entertainment District, Sunset and Vine BID
October 11, 2017
6562 Hollywood Blvd

- I. Call to Order: The meeting was called to order by John Tronson at 10:05 a.m.
- II. Public Comment: There was no public comment.
- III. Meeting Notes: Meeting notes from September 13, 2017 were distributed to the committee for review.
- IV. Reports
- A. Staff Report:
- a. Community Public Safety Survey: Morrison distributed a top-line summary of some of the results from the public safety survey administered over 60 days, ending Labor Day weekend. She indicated that the survey researcher recommended opening it back up for two weeks, to improve the number of student responses (there were only 8 students in a universe of over 760 responses, which is only one percent). Because students are returning to school, the survey will officially close on Oct 20. Once the final results are added, a more formal report will be issued. This will be a good baseline to have to measure changes in community perceptions in the future.
- b. Homeless Issues: Morrison said that work continues to identify a potential shelter site, and there is a city-owned site that is a possibility on Vermont. That will require collaboration between the Mayor's office and council office to bring to a reality. There is also the possibility of The Dream Center. She will report more next month.
- c. Collaborative outreach strategy: Morrison reported that the first meeting of the E-6 (Measure H funded) outreach team occurred in the BID office with others involved in outreach on October 10. A second meeting is scheduled in two weeks. The BID is attempting to bring everyone together to find a way that makes sense to work together. Stephen, the BID's outreach worker, has proved to be an invaluable asset in providing insights into the needs of dozens of homeless individuals living in four targetted encampment areas: Tommy's, El Centro, Leland Way and Homewood.
- d. Sidewalk vending update: Morrison reported that very little progress is occurring in this area. She will be accompanying Chamber representatives to meet with Councilmember Curran Price later in the week to express concern from Hollywood on how the delay in passing an ordinance is causing chaos on the public sidewalks, especially around Hollywood and Highland.
- e. Tourism District Overlay Zone: Morrison reported on the creation of a Tourism District Overlay Zone in the new BID and described the process by which the property owners in that section of the BID decided to support it. A map was distributed. Carol [REDACTED] who was also in that meeting on September 21 described the discussion that led to support. Morrison also described how decisions will be made, as a new committee will be written into the organization's bylaws which will vest decision-making with a weighted vote tied to assessment paid. It will raise $250,000 in the first year, and the inclinations is to put it toward security and enforcement.

f. Meeting with Mayor: [REDACTED] reported that later that day, a group of property owners from both BIDs will be meeting with Mayor Garcetti at City Hall. She sought advice from the committee relative to the format for their presentation to him and they provided guidance on the problem statement that prefaced the agenda. This is what the "statement of the problem" now says:

Statement of the Problem – Hollywood is less safe than it was three years ago. Though homelessness is intense, there are strategies in the works to address this issue. Of greater concern is the increased evidence of untreated mental illness, visible sidewalk-level substance abuse, and the surfacing of a criminal element that has become emboldened and, in some cases, may be embedded in the homeless population. We are seeing fall-out from the unintended consequences associated with criminal justice reform (109/47/57) with insufficient social safety net services attached. Legal settlements, intended to safeguard the rights of homeless individuals living on our sidewalks, may also be protecting criminal behavior. Hollywood's quality of life – for its citizens and economy – is at stake.

B. Andrews International Report: Steve [REDACTED] distributed a report for the period September 4, 2017 through October 1, 2017. However, given the long discussion associated with the issues raised in the staff report, there was no verbal presentation.

C. LAPD – Lt. Ling reported on the continued commitment to what they are referring to as "HED-Plus" and the daily footbeats that are occurring. Committee members expressed appreciation for the changes they are experiencing and the visibility of LAPD. Lt. Ling also provided some input into the agenda that was prepared for the meeting with the mayor. Steve Houchin, neighborhood prosecutor, also shared some of the issues they are facing with enforcement of 56.11 and how tents are treated on the public right of way at this time.

V. New Business: There was no new business.

VI. Next Meeting: The next meeting is scheduled for November 8, 2017

VII. Adjournment: There being no further business the meeting was adjourned at 11:30 a.m.

Subject: Private security budgets - increases since 2014?

TO: HPOA Board

I'm preparing talking points for the group who will be meeting with Assemblymember Bloom next Thursday. The primary focus of our conversation will likely be the decline in public safety in the neighborhood over the past several years (we usually peg this to approx. 2013-14).

There is a groundswell beginning to take shape, statewide, that the unintended consequences of various criminal justice reform measures have left our communities and neighborhoods less safe (hence the irony of naming Prop 47 the "Safe Neighborhoods and Schools Act"). Fixing this falls within the realm of the state legislature, and after we meet with Richard Bloom, we'll set up a meeting with State Senator Ben Allen (and possibly Assemblymember Laura Friedman).

I am assembling some data for Bloom, and I had one idea: has your property/business/tenant found it necessary to increase expenditures for security in the last two to four years?

I have had several property owners call me this year to express their frustration in having to double or triple their security expenses (they know this is not within the purview of the BID – its just a reality) because of conditions in the neighborhood.

If you have any compelling information that I could use in our meeting, please either send me a private message or give me a call by Wednesday evening.

Many thanks,
And have a good weekend,
Kerry

Subject: Finished Fellowship Travell

Greetings HPOA Board (and welcome to new board members!)

I came back to the office this Wednesday – and the staff briefed me on all that occurred in my absence during the past month. I cannot express enough gratitude to the staff to supporting this fellowship over the past two years, and making the space for me to leave and study. A huge debt of gratitude is owed to Joe, who stepped in to do double duty, and who did a yeoman's job to shield me from emails to allow me to keep my head clear of Hollywood while in Italy and New York.

I am passing along a blog I wrote after the conference in Trieste Italy. We had an amazing group of people assembled to view, first-hand, this model for mental health care that is the world's envy. Given that our new head of the Department of Mental Health, Dr. Jonathan Sherin, and our superior court judge for the mental health court (Department 95), Judge Jim Bianco, came along as critical participants in this delegation, we have the heft to pull off a pilot of some sort here in LA. That is Dr. Sherin's intention.

The blog goes into a little more detail – I hope you can take a chance to read this, and will feel as hopeful as I do that something could change in L.A. as a result. Lord knows our system could not be any more dysfunctional – so out of the ashes could come opportunity.

Thank you – all of you – for supporting my work in this endeavor. I hope you feel a sense of pride that the Hollywood BID has played a role in fomenting change for LA – as you should!

Subject: ADW synopsis

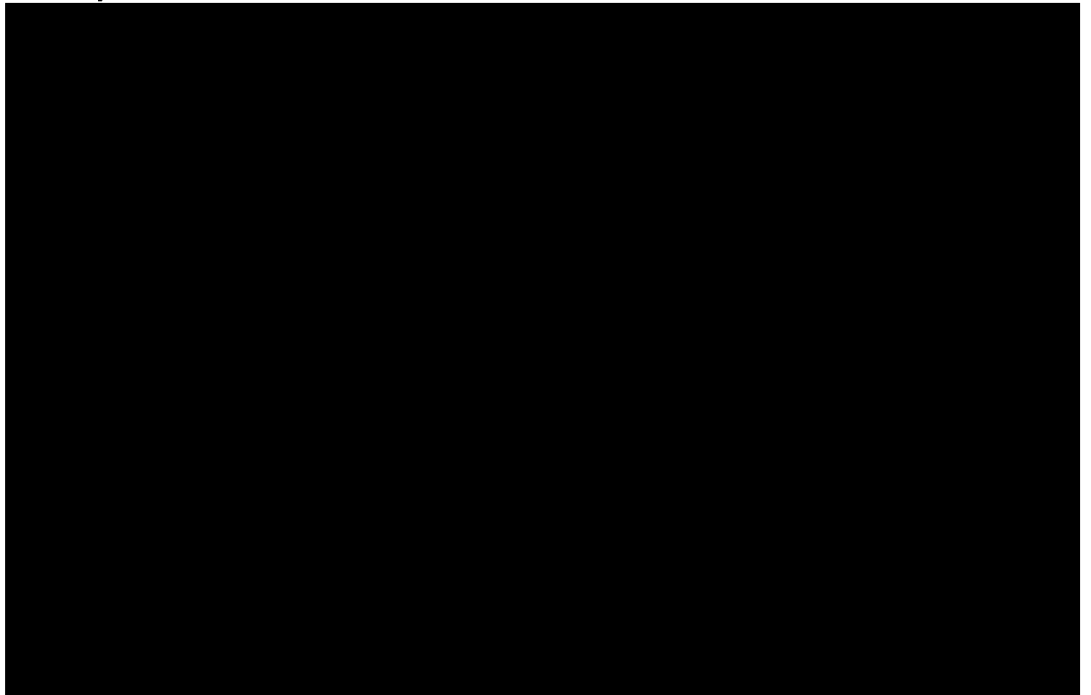

Our suspect is a transient by the name of Daniel Jones. His rap sheet including, arrests in April and May in the Hollywood Area for being drunk in the public. His prior arrests include burglary 2010 (Palmdale Area), theft 2010 (Gardena), Narcotics (West Hollywood), and traffic violations. He does not appear to have a violent past.

The initial crime started at Hollywood and La Brea when the suspect attempted to stab a female motorist by her car, striking her in the arm once. The suspect then entered the Roosevelt Hotel kitchen area and picked up (2) knife on the kitchen counter top and attempted to stab the two chefs with it, no hit there. The suspect then got of the hotel onto the street and stabbed the fourth victim in the back, who collapsed at H/H. Multiple radio calls were generated and our foot beat unit stopped the suspect a Hawthorne and Selma without incident. A total of (4) victims with two sustained non-life threatening injuries. The officers believed narcotics played a bigger role but some level of mental illness involved as well.
